

Digital Print Production Certificate (2515)

This Digital Print Production certificate will prepare students for work in the field of digital print production. Upon completion of the certificate, students will be proficient in many printing-focused skill sets, including file prep, layout, production, color, file set up, Adobe Creative Suite, and other graphics tools, in addition to some of the principles of graphic design. Courses within this certificate will help prepare students for employment opportunities in print production and give students who complete this certificate and the Associate of Applied Business degree in Graphic Design a more well-rounded knowledge base.
